MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

OUR VISION

We dream of a Middle East free of sexual abuse for every child, woman and man.

If you are a living being, you are likely to love helping others and helping our world become a better place. And yet training on sexual abuse and bullying or counseling sexually abused and trauma survivors is no easy task. Why?

Because there is no easy answer and no quick fix. We perceive how one human being can cause another human being pain that might scar that person for life.

We at Not Guilty have decided to face the rampant cancer of trauma and abuse. Facing such gigantic problems has a high price tag, whether emotionally, financially, or socially. Many times we are faced with the denial of a whole society and feel lonely as we minister to trauma and abuse survivors.

Abolishing sexual abuse and bullying and the trauma that comes with it can never be accomplished by one person or one organization. We need all of you. Let us join our hands. Only then can we abolish sexual abuse, trauma, and bullying, raising our beloved Egypt to indeed become the greatest nation on earth. We are better together.

Our target is training teachers, social workers, people dealing with youth, caretakers at orphanages, doctors, police officers, parents, teens and kids about abuse so that they in turn would be able to notice signs of abuse early on, to propagate the methods of protection and to react correctly to reported cases. This TOT is a pilot project. According to receptivity of trainers and their propagation of the training they received, we will be doing more training of trainers. Not Guilty books, one for boys and one for girls for ages 3 to 10 years old, to teach children how to say NO. These books are to be read with the children by an adult whether a teacher, a parent or a grandparent. These books are a great tool as part of the school curriculum to nip the problem at the bud instead of waiting for the abuse to happen. TV episodes about sexual abuse explaining who is more prone to abuse, who is the abuser, the signs, and effects of abuse and how to protect ourselves and our children from abuse. Hosts for episodes: Dr. Laila Risgallah and Mohamed Diab. Teaching for parents, teachers, teens and kids about abuse and bullying. Counseling of survivors of sexual abuse and its consequences. Now we are presenting online parenting tips.
